Course Description

Organizational behavior addresses the human side of organizations - what people need and desire at work, how they use their time, talent, and energy for collective ends, and how they can work together effectively for a greater good. Leadership guides and influences others to engage in these collective endeavors.

BUAD 304 therefore has a dual focus on helping you: 1) learn evidence-based knowledge from the field of organizational behavior in order to identify and apply best organizational practices for leading teams and organizations, and 2) develop the interpersonal skills required to lead diverse groups and organizations effectively.

This combined focus on organizational knowledge and leadership behaviors will enable you to use sound judgment in making complex decisions, manage relationships with others, motivate and influence others without relying on formal authority, build and manage high performing teams, deploy social capital, negotiate effectively, lead organizational change, and generally make sense of today's - and tomorrow's - organizational world. Organizations place a high value on these leadership skills, so learning them will enable you to excel in today's dynamic, competitive, and global marketplace.

Course Learning Objectives

After successfully completing BUAD 304, you will be able to:

- utilize organizational behavior theories, frameworks, principles, and tactics to prevent OB problems from emerging and, when problems are identified, intervene to fix them.
- evaluate the benefits and challenges of alternatives to achieve high performance at the individual, team and organizational levels.
- evaluate the effectiveness of a variety of leadership behaviors depending on the context.
- create a plan to improve your own personal leadership skills and to manage your career.

The course will place a special emphasis on developing your critical thinking skills. Cases will seek to develop your ability to uncover the various potential problems, challenges and opportunities faced by a business, sort and select the most important, develop alternative courses of action for addressing those issues, assess the different courses of action in light of multiple criteria, select the solutions that have the potential to be the most effective and develop an effective implementation plan.

The relationship between the course learning goals and the Marshall School of Business' undergraduate business program learning goals is described in Appendix A.

Our Inclusive Learning Community

USC is a multicultural community of people from diverse gender, racial, ethnic and class backgrounds, national origins, faith backgrounds, political beliefs, abilities, and sexual orientations. Our lectures, classes, programs, workshops, activities and everyday interactions are enriched by our acceptance of one another, and we strive to learn from each other in an atmosphere of mutual respect and positive engagement.

As Trojans, we understand the value of the perspectives of individuals from all backgrounds that reflect the rich diversity of our USC community and beyond. Together, we will strive to make this classroom a psychologically safe and inclusive environment for all of us to develop and practice inclusive behaviors. As such, we will:

- respect the dignity and essential work of all individuals,
- promote a culture of respect within the university community,
- respect the privacy, property, and freedom of others,
- reject bigotry, discrimination, violence or intimidation of any kind,
- practice personal and academic integrity and expect it of others, and
- promote the diversity of opinions, ideas and backgrounds which is the lifeblood of the university.

Course Materials

- (1) Textbook & Connect/LearnSmart. You will need the ONLINE version of Organizational Behavior: A Practical, Problem-Solving Approach 3rd edition by Angelo Kinicki. 2021. McGraw Hill.

USC has a new Digital Course Materials Program which provides access to many required textbooks, case studies and other resources for one flat fee. Our course materials have been submitted to the program coordinator and students have been sent notification about how to access the materials. Please check your usc.edu email for instructions on how to access the materials. I strongly recommend you access the textbook through this program, as the price for the e-book and Connect will be a significant discount relative to purchasing the book independent from the Course Materials Program.

To gain access to the required ONLINE version of our textbook, Organizational Behavior: A Practical, Problem-Solving Approach, 3rd edition by Angelo Kinicki (2021) via Brightspace, follow these instructions to register directly with McGraw Hill.

1. Sign in to Brightspace.
2. Go to our BUAD 304 Organizational Behavior and Leadership course.
3. Under Content, find the Connect module and go to that module.
4. Click on one of the assignments in the Connect module (e.g., What is My Big Five Personality Profile), and you will jump over to the McGraw Hill website to register and access the e-book.
5. Please review the video at this link for additional information.

- (2) ARES Course Reader. This course reader is accessible for free on the USC Libraries ARES system online. Go to the online ARES system, click on Search Courses and search by course number: 304 for Fall 2026. Once you find the BUAD 304 course, add it then click View Course to view and access the readings.

- (3) Case reader. The BUAD 304 Organizational Behavior & Leadership coursepack for Fall 2026 can be accessed via the email sent to you.

Additional Readings, Resources and Assessments

1. Videos are available on the USC Marshall Critical Thinking Initiative website to help you better understand how to do case analysis and use the Marshall USC-CT framework. Please watch these in Week 1. Here is the link.
2. Personal assessments are listed in the course schedule and can be accessed via McGraw-Hill Connect, Brightspace (Connect module) or a separate website.
3. Any additional readings, assessments, and/or materials will be posted to Brightspace.

Course Notes

All course information is available through your Brightspace account. Brightspace is the primary channel of communication for this course so take note of announcements and other email messages you receive. Assignment and exam scores are posted there as well. You can also communicate directly with your Professor, your project team members, and other classmates from your section. Use this link to access Brightspace from your web browser and use your USC username and password to log in.

Final grades represent how you perform in the class relative to other students. Three items are considered when assigning final grades:

1. your weighted score as a percentage of the available points for all assignments (the points you receive divided by the number of points possible).
2. the overall average percentage score within the class.
3. your ranking among all students in the class.

Participation

Attendance Policy. Attendance is critical in this course. All missed classes will be noted. The policy on missed classes is to allow each student two (2) absences, no questions asked, no penalty. Missing three or more classes without a reasonable conversation with the professor will reduce your participation grade and final course grade. Students with an excessive number of absences are at risk of failing the course. Only official university engagements, such as officially scheduled USC Marshall sponsored case competitions and sports events, will be accepted as exceptions to this policy. Job interviews are not excused so choose your absences carefully. Habitual lateness and leaving class early, for whatever reason, will be noted as evidence of low course commitment and penalized. Simply put, you cannot learn from our class discussions, and your classmates cannot learn from you, if you are not present.

Participation. Your participation grade will be based on consistent and effective contributions to class discussions and participation in in-class assignments and activities. You are expected to attend every class session having read, thought about, and prepared any assigned material. You should also be prepared to share your ideas and to actively listen to and interpret the ideas presented by others. Effective engagement with your team is also an important component of your participation grade.

Comments that are vague, repetitive, unrelated to the discussion, or disrespectful of others will be evaluated negatively. Quality comments possess one or more of the following attributes:

- Offer a relevant concept or personal experience
- Provide careful analysis by applying theory and concepts from readings and lectures
- Move the discussion forward by building on previous contributions with new insights
- Ask thoughtful and challenging questions.

Our learning community operates in an environment of openness, respect, encouragement and engagement. Discussions will be richer if you share your unique perspective. There is rarely one right answer in organizational behavior! It may take courage or patience or imagination to engage with the course material, our classmates and our experiences. In our classroom, I aim to develop a psychologically safe space where we can all learn together and benefit from the diversity that leads to increased innovation, better problem solving and, in our case, what I hope will be new friends and a great semester!

Research Studies Participation. Please refer to the Research Studies Participation document in Brightspace for more information on this component of your grade.

Individual Assignments

Midterm Exam. I will give an exam at the midpoint of the course to assess your understanding of material previously covered. The exam will consist of multiple-choice, true/false and/or short-essay questions. Please refer to the exam study guide posted to Brightspace for information on the topics covered, the format of the questions, and sample questions. Make-up exams are not permitted. I expect this exam to be administered in person.

Case Analysis Assignments. To actively engage in case discussions, you will need to complete an analysis of the assigned case before attending class. Case preparation goes beyond simply reading the case. You are expected to use the USC-CT critical thinking framework to analyze the assigned case. You will identify critical problems and develop alternative solutions and an implementation plan. Be sure to watch the assigned USC-CT videos as noted in Week 1. Additional instructions will be posted to Brightspace.

Final Reflection Paper. You will write a short personal reflection paper that describes how your team experience was influenced by different group properties and processes as well as reflect on your own behavior and learning. You will be assessed based on thoughtful, compelling and insightful writing and reflection, a strong connection between the experience and the learning or insights gained, and the use of specific detail and narrative accounts that convey an understanding of the experience supported by course material and personal assessment results. We strongly recommend that you maintain a learning journal or notes throughout the semester to aid in the writing at the end of the semester. Instructions and a grading rubric will be posted to Brightspace.

Team Project

You will work with your team throughout the semester to prepare for and complete the Team Project. The goals of the team project are (1) to enrich your understanding of organizations and leadership; (2) to provide you with an opportunity to apply what you have learned in the course; (3) to assess your ability to analyze an organization or organizations and come to insightful conclusions and (4) to help you develop critical interpersonal and teamwork skills.

Your team will have a choice of conducting either:

1. A fieldwork study with a local organization such as a student organization, business unit on campus, or other local company. Your team will investigate and analyze some aspect of this organization that connects with themes in the course such as the organization's culture, rewards system or the structure and functioning of groups within the organization. You will identify best practices and make recommendations based on your study.

2. An issue analysis of an issue/topic connected to the themes in the course and of importance to multiple organizations; this issue may be inspired by something in the headlines of the business press or something in your own experience. You will need to examine the nature of this issue and analyze in detail how different companies have addressed and/or experienced the issue. You will identify best practices and make recommendations based on your study using archival sources (i.e. library research).

Your “deliverable” for this project has five components:

1. Project proposal with team contract
2. Detailed outline of paper
3. Project paper
4. In-class presentation followed by Q&A
5. Self & peer evaluation feedback (online assessment explained in class).

Submitted assignments should use 12-point, Times New Roman font, double-spaced, with 1-inch margins on all sides.

Feedback helps you learn and improve your performance as well as the quality of your output as a team. As part of the team project, you will practice and develop skills in providing and receiving effective feedback through in-class exercises and a more formal peer evaluation survey. The criteria for the peer evaluation will be discussed in class and posted to Brightspace.

The final grade for this project is based on four components: the project proposal, the project paper, the presentation, and the self & peer evaluation. The team project will be evaluated based on the quality of the analysis, the appropriate use of course concepts, principles and frameworks, the logic and substantiation of conclusions, the clarity, organization and style of the writing and the quality of your class presentation. The detailed outline of the paper is not graded but you will receive feedback to help improve the final paper. Further instructions and grading rubrics will be posted to Brightspace.

Grades for individual student contributions to the team project are assigned by your Professor, based on my observations of the team’s working dynamics, my assessment of the team project quality, and thoughtful consideration of the information provided through your peer evaluations.

Final Exam

The final exam will take place during the final examination period on the date and time assigned by the University. It will consist of multiple-choice, true/false and/or short-essay questions. Please refer to the exam study guide posted to Brightspace for information on the material covered. If you have another final exam scheduled on the same date and time as the final exam for this course, you must let me know about the conflict at least 2 weeks prior to the final exam. I expect this exam to be administered in person.

Online Class Expectations – IF we move to an online format

1. Class attendance and participation are important to develop a coherent view of the materials covered in the course. Because BUAD 304 is highly interactive and experiential, attendance and active participation are required in the event of synchronous Zoom class sessions.
 - a. First, please note that BUAD 304 in Fall 2026 is a residential class. All students are expected to be physically present in the classroom. In the event you cannot do so, you must contact the professor prior to classes beginning. This course is designed for in-person engagement, and OSAS Approved/Online only is not allowed at this time.
2. In the event we meet online for Zoom sessions, the following netiquette is expected, as if you were in a physical classroom.
 - a. Please DO:
 - i. Log into class early or promptly.
 - ii. Arrange to attend class where there is a reliable internet connection and without distractions.

- iii. Dress respectfully. Video conference business meetings are and will be the norm, so practice your professional telepresence.
 - iv. If you use a virtual background, please keep it respectfully professional.
 - v. Display both your first and last name during video conferencing and synchronous class meetings.
 - vi. Respectfully minimize distractions by muting and or turning off video if necessary and when appropriate.
 - vii. Engage in appropriate tone and language with instructors and classmates.
- b. Please DON'T:
- i. Engage in a simultaneous activity not related to the class.
 - ii. Interact with people who are not part of the class during the class session.
 - iii. Leave frequently or not be on camera for extended periods of time.
 - iv. Have other people or pets in view of the camera.
3. All Zoom sessions will be recorded and posted in the Brightspace Course pages.

Technology Requirements

You are responsible for ensuring that you have the necessary computer equipment and reliable internet access. Marshall has site licenses for a variety of software that students can access free of charge. A list of available software is located here. If you have any concerns about purchasing required software, please let me know. Students are invited to explore what lab or loaner options exist. Contact the Marshall HelpDesk (213-740-3000 or HelpDesk@marshall.usc.edu) if you need assistance.

You will need the following equipment and system requirements to successfully participate in this course:

- Computer with webcam
- Earphones or headset
- Reliable (preferably high-speed) Internet connection
- Current operating system for Windows or Mac
- Current browser (Google Chrome, Firefox, Safari)

If your computer does not have Microsoft Word, Office 365 package is available to you free of charge and allows you to install Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook, OneNote, Publisher, and Access on up to 5 PCs or Macs and Office apps on other mobile devices including tablets. Office 365 also includes unlimited cloud storage on OneDrive. To download Office 365, log into your student (University) email through a web browser, choose Settings (top right corner), and select software. If you have further questions or need help with the software, please contact the USC ITS service portal.

For technical support please see:

Additional Information

USC Marshall Critical Thinking Initiative

The USC Marshall Critical Thinking Initiative is a school-wide effort to improve your critical thinking skills in order to be more successful problem solvers in class and ultimately in the workplace. This means that you will engage in a variety of learning activities in your courses which are aimed at developing and applying your critical thinking skills in a disciplined manner so that you can outperform others to get your desired job and to further excel in your career. Your ability to think critically is an important part of the evaluation/grading process in this course. The centerpiece of Marshall's critical thinking knowledge is a website that contains instructional materials and videos. We utilize these resources to prepare you to do the case analysis assignments. Here is the link to the website.

Academic Integrity

The University of Southern California is foremost a learning community committed to fostering successful scholars and researchers dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and the transmission of ideas. Academic misconduct is contrary to this fundamental mission and includes any act of dishonesty in the submission of academic work (either in draft or final form), as well as cheating, plagiarism, fabrication (e.g., falsifying data), knowingly assisting others in acts of academic dishonesty, and any act that gains or is intended to gain an unfair academic advantage. Students are expected to uphold the highest standards of academic integrity in all coursework. This course follows the expectations for academic integrity as stated in the USC Student Handbook. All students are expected to submit assignments that are original work and prepared specifically for the course/section in this academic term. Students may not submit work written by others or "recycle" work prepared for other courses without obtaining written permission from the instructor(s). Students suspected of academic misconduct will be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity.

Academic dishonesty has a far-reaching impact and is considered a serious offense against the university. Violations will result in a grade penalty, such as a failing grade on the assignment or in the course, and disciplinary action from the university, such as suspension or expulsion. For more information about academic integrity see the Student Handbook, the Office of Academic Integrity's website, and university policies on Research and Scholarship Misconduct. Please ask your instructor if you are unsure what constitutes unauthorized assistance on an exam or assignment or what information requires citation and/or attribution.

Instructors determine whether and how generative AI tools (such as ChatGPT, Copilot, Claude, Gemini, and similar applications) and other external resources (such as English-language translation tools) may be used in this course. Expectations may vary from assignment to assignment. This includes AI tools that record, transcribe, or summarize class sessions, which may require express instructor permission. Review the AI use guidance provided carefully, and direct any questions to your instructor before submitting work.

Students seeking general guidance may consult the following resources:

- USC Student Handbook
- Generative AI General Policy
- Practical Tips for Using AI in Academic Work
- Office of Academic Integrity

Statement Around Use of AI Tools

Since creating, analytical, and critical thinking skills are part of the learning outcomes of this course, all assignments should be prepared by the student working individually or in groups. Students may not have another person or entity complete any substantive portion of the assignment. Developing strong competencies in these areas will prepare you for a competitive workplace. Additionally, adding copyrighted case content to an LLM such as ChatGPT is a violation of our case publisher Harvard University's terms of use and copyright. Therefore, using AI tools is prohibited in this course, will be identified as plagiarism, and will be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity.

Add/Drop Process

Most Marshall classes are open enrollment (R-clearance) through the Add deadline. If there is an open seat, you can add the class using Web Registration. If the class is full, you will need to continue checking Web Registration or the Schedule of Classes to see if a space becomes available. Students who do not attend the first two class sessions (for classes that meet twice per week) or the first class meeting (for classes that meet once per week) may be dropped from the course. Therefore, let me know if you have any conflicts in Week 1 like visa or health issues so you aren't dropped. There are no formal wait lists for Marshall undergraduate courses, and professors cannot add students or increase the course capacity. If all sections of the course are full, you can add your name to an interest list by contacting the Office of Undergraduate Advising & Student Affairs; if new seats or sections are added, students on the interest list will be notified.

Statement on Technology Use

I expect you to be responsible in using technology in class. You will need to “be here and be present” so that we can create an engaging learning community. It is far more important to participate in class than to take detailed notes. Course powerpoint slides and class recordings will be posted to Brightspace. After each class session, you may want to take some time to reflect on the learning experience and type up whatever notes seem useful.

Videotaping faculty lectures is not permitted due to copyright infringement regulations. Audiotaping may be permitted if approved by the professor. Use of any recorded or distributed material is reserved exclusively for the USC students registered in this class. Exceptions to this policy may be granted to individual students with appropriate documentation on a case-by-case basis.

Use of Recordings

Pursuant to the USC Student Handbook (<https://policy.usc.edu/studenthandbook/>, pages 16 and 59), distribution or use of notes, recordings, exams, or other intellectual property, based on university classes or lectures without the express permission of the instructor for purposes other than individual or group study is prohibited. This includes but is not limited to providing materials for distribution by services publishing course materials. This restriction on unauthorized use also applies to any information, created by another, distributed to students, or in any way had been displayed for use in relationship to the class, whether obtained in class, via email, on the internet, or via any other method. Distributing course material without the instructor's permission will be presumed to be an intentional act to facilitate or enable academic dishonesty and is strictly prohibited. Violations of this policy may subject an individual or entity to university discipline and/or legal proceedings.

Open Expression and Respect for All

An important goal of the educational experience at USC Marshall is to be exposed to and discuss diverse, thought-provoking, and sometimes controversial ideas that challenge one's beliefs. In this course we will support the values articulated in the USC Marshall “Open Expression Statement”.

Statement on University Academic and Support Systems

Students and Disability Accommodations

USC welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. The Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter disability-related barriers. Once a student has completed the OSAS process (registration, initial appointment, and submitted documentation) and accommodations are determined to be reasonable and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be available to generate for each course. The LOA must be given to each course instructor by the student and followed up with a discussion. This should be done as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at osas.usc.edu. You may contact OSAS at (213) 740-0776 or via email at osasfrontdesk@usc.edu.

Student Financial Aid and Satisfactory Academic Progress

To be eligible for certain kinds of financial aid, students are required to maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) toward their degree objectives. Visit the Financial Aid Office webpage for undergraduate- and graduate-level SAP eligibility requirements and the appeals process.

Support Systems

Counseling and Mental Health - (213) 740-9355 – 24/7 on call

Free and confidential mental health treatment for students, including short-term psychotherapy, group counseling, stress fitness workshops, and crisis intervention.

988 Suicide and Crisis Lifeline - 988 for both calls and text messages – 24/7 on call

The 988 Suicide and Crisis Lifeline (formerly known as the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline) provides free and confidential emotional support to people in suicidal crisis or emotional distress 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, across the United States. The Lifeline consists of a national network of over 200 local crisis centers, combining custom local care and resources with national standards and best practices. The new, shorter phone number makes it easier for people to remember and access mental health crisis services (though the previous 1 (800) 273-8255 number will continue to function indefinitely) and represents a continued commitment to those in crisis.
