

Final Exam

HIST-103 | The Emergence of Modern Europe

Instructor: Dr. Lindsay O'Neill

Term: Fall 2026

Assignment Summary

Grade weight:	20%
Start date:	2025-10-13
Due date:	2025-12-10
Group project:	No
Notes:	In-class exam, THH 301

Overview

The final is the same format as the midterm - 10 identifications and one longer essay. This too will be an in-class exam.

Date & Location

- Thursday, December 10th
- 4:30-6:30pm, THH 301

Exam Format

- Part 1 (30%): Identifications - ten terms since midterm, definitions provided, you write correct person/place/event
- Part 2 (70%): Essay - TWO of five pre-released prompts appear, answer ONE
- Since the midterm you have gathered 42 identifications from class lectures
- Terms will NOT be provided on the identification section

Essay Prompts (two will appear on exam)

- If Martin Luther travelled through time to around the time of the French Revolution what would shock him and what would remain familiar?
- How important was the written or printed word to the Reformation, the new science, the Enlightenment, and/or the French Revolution?
- True or False: 'The French Revolution was the most revolutionary occurrence between 1520 and 1815.'
- Europe faced a number of crises of authority between 1520 and 1815... What authorities were under attack and why? [Explore 3 crises]

- How did the place of religion OR gender in society change between 1520 and 1800?

Tips for Final Exam

- Know your ID Terms - hard to give partial credit if you miss a few
- Essay grade benefits from specific references to class readings (Diefendorf, documentaries, witchcraft trials, Locke, Rousseau, activities)
- Avoid using the definitions from id terms for your essay - show original engagement
- Each body paragraph should include at least two pieces of evidence
- Do NOT use resources beyond the lectures and readings

Full Syllabus Extract

Final Exam - 20% The final is the same format as the midterm - 10 identifications and one longer essay. This too will be an in-class exam.

Hist 103: Final Study Guide Thursday, December 10th 4:30-6:30pm, THH 301